

WHEN IT HURT.

I did not know what ailed my girl—
She ne'er was cross before;
No matter what I tried to say
It seemed to make her sore.
Her pretty brow was furrowed deep,
Her voice was harshly curt;
'Twas long before I found out why—
Her shoes were tight and hurt.

STORM DRIVEN

And Tempest Tossed, Cold and Hungry, the County Bastille a Haven of Comfort and Rest

With a certain class in every city, and Maysville is no exception to the rule, the Police Station and Jail are havens of rest and comfort to the homeless and friendless vagabonds.

In many instances they actually break into Jail of their own accord by committing a breach of the peace or other slight offense entailing a fine, and having no means with which to pay are committed to Jail—just what they want.

With the mercury playing hide and seek round about the zero mark, and blasts of wintry wind—such as yesterday—penetrating and chilling to the marrow-bone, and hunger gnawing their vitals, they can hardly be blamed for seeking a shelter and something to eat even though it be a Jail—and right here it must be understood that Jailer McIlvain gives his prisoners plenty of good, substantial food and warm quarters.

In Judge Whitaker's Court yesterday three old-timers were arraigned and fined and costed, respectively, $6.50, $25.50 and $30.50, and no doubt they were well satisfied with the Court's judgment, as they are dead certain to be cared for during the next thirty days, and by that time spring will have arrived, gentle Asie.

Now we are seven years ago and further brought forth, upon this centenary, a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal."

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battle-field of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of it, as a final resting place for those who here have given that nation might and life. This we may, in all propriety do. But, in a larger sense, we can not dedicate—we can not consecrate—we can not hallow, this ground—the brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have hallowed it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here; but it can never forget what they did here."

It is rather for us, the living, to stand here, dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that, from these honored dead, we take increased devotion to that cause for which they here gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, shall have a new birth of freedom; and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

The Gettysburg Address, November 19, 1863. Facsimile of the Original First Version.

Centenary of Lincoln's Birth Is Appropriately Remembered by Country

Worthily have the American people joined in an appropriate celebration of the Lincoln centenary, and extended it to the remotest corners of the land. The 12th of this month is the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln. That date is observed with solemn and yet grateful ceremony by the whole American people, who owe more to Lincoln than to any other citizen of the republic, save only Washington.

Lincoln is, after Washington, the greatest name in our national history. No other man performed services so great as his, or was so high a character. His conduct during the trying days of the civil war, when the union that had been founded with high hopes for human liberty seemed destined to be destroyed, was such as to appear inspired by a power greater than human, and many an American has thanked God in his secret prayers that so wise, gentle, forbearing a leader had been raised up by divine direction to guide the country to safety. His death was a great calamity, not less to the south than to the north; for, if Lincoln had been spared, his qualities of heart and mind would have made the task of reconstruction much easier than it proved and would have healed the wounds of war much sooner.

The south will join with the north in observing Lincoln's one hundredth birthday, for now, in these latter days his memory is as deeply beloved south of Mason and Dixon's line as north of it. The celebration is worthy to be remembered as an expression of the gratitude and affection of a great people.

When we once resolve to lay aside desire to make of Lincoln's life and words an arsenal from which to draw weapons with which to fight for special causes, and consider with quiet thought Abraham Lincoln as all Americans know he was, we find the materials ample.

We see Abraham Lincoln as a home-ly, kindly, patient man, who loved his country as men love their mothers. We see him seeking the welfare of all that mother's sons because he was one of them. We see him working humbly and patiently under God's such as no American before, save

Washington, and none since, has been called upon to bear. We see him always charitably, realizing that in this human world men are moved by all sorts of motives, and appealing to all motives that in honesty and honor he could, so that only that the results of the up and be acts helping to save and restore to peace the nation mother.

And so Abraham Lincoln wrought with the tools at hand, never complaining of their human imperfection, using to his great end and only the noblest aspirations of the best but every force of human desire, and thus delivering a race from bondage and saving a nation because he ever wrought "with malice toward none and with charity for all."

ALWAYS HAD SUPERB FAITH.

An Incident, Hitherto Unrecorded, of Lincoln's Trust.

As illustrative of Mr. Lincoln's superb faith, I will give an instance that I have never seen in print, says a writer in the Century Magazine. In the largest room in the White House, on the second floor, were gathered a number of officers of the army, then of prominence by reason of the commands that they held in the field; many civilians who held no offices, but who had come from the north to see Washington and pay their respects to Mr. Lincoln, and perhaps get contracts essential to running the government; and a few members of congress.

At first it appeared more like a large reception, where after shaking hands, people stayed to chat with one another. Not far from Mr. Lincoln, a prominent senator, whom we may call Senator D—, in a strong, deep voice remarked: "I believe that, if we could only do right as a people, the Lord would help us and we should have a decided success in this terrible struggle." Mr. Lincoln, hearing the remark of the senator, with his clear, shrill enunciation, cried out: "My faith is greater than yours."

Everybody turned and looked at the president, who was head and shoulders above all those assembled. The senator who had spoken then said: "How so, Mr. Lincoln?" "I am confident," said he, "that God will make us do sufficiently right to give us the victory."

If you suffer from backache, There is only one way to cure it. The perfect way is to cure the kidneys. A bad back means sick kidneys. Neglect it, urinary troubles follow. Doan's Kidney Pills are made for kidneys only.

James Wells, living on Front street, Vanceburg, Ky. says:

"About one month before I began using Doan's Kidney Pills my back began to ache and pain and caused me a great deal of annoyance. I knew that if the trouble was not eradicated it might prove fatal. Often when I came home at night and went to bed the trouble was so severe that I had to continually change my position, and during the day I had to pass the secretions every little while. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I procured them and the use of one box entirely cured me. I have had no symptom of kidney trouble since and give the credit to Doan's Kidney Pills."

THE BEST REMEDY

For Women—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Noah, Ky. — "I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from headaches, nervous prostration, and hemorrhages. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me well and strong, so that I can do all my household work, and attend to the store and post-office, and feel much younger than I really am."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most successful remedy for all kinds of female troubles, and I feel that I can never praise it enough." — Mrs. Lizzie Holland, Noah, Ky.

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease and pain.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs.

For 30 years it has been curing women from the worst forms of female ills—inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and nervous prostration.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

His Anniversary Especially Appeals to the Colored Race

We are expecting a great time at Scott's M. E. Church on February 12th, 1909, at 7:30.

As I have not been able to see many of our colored citizens personally, I take this method to call attention to the meeting of February 12th. I feel sure that there is not a Negro in Maysville or Mason county so devoid of patriotism that he or she can't be aroused to do honor to the name of Abraham Lincoln, our Emancipator. While the Negro is grateful to all who have in any way aided him in his struggle for a higher life, I feel there are two who claim our most profound love and gratitude; these are Jesus Christ, our Saviour, and Abraham Lincoln, our Deliverer. And, as we may not follow Christ as we should, let us not be found wanting in doing honor to him who made our freedom possible. My dear friends, as we have helped to bear Old Glory to the front in every conflict, from the Boston Massacre in 1770 to the charge of the Rough Riders at Santiago in 1898, let us not fail now. Having thus made so good a record in war, let us be not less patriotic in time of peace. I shall look for you; I have faith in you. Don't let Old Glory trail in the dust. Old soldiers especially urged to be present.

Yours for Christ and Humanity,

R. F. BROADBENT.

Our Colored Citizens.

IN STATE CEMETERY

Historical Society Will Re-Inter Bodies of Finley and Kenton

The Kentucky Historical Society has made arrangements to have removed to the State Cemetery at Frankfort the body of John Finley, a pioneer, now interred at Upper Blue Lick Springs, in Nicholas county, and an effort is being made also to have the body of Simon Kenton, buried at Marietta, Ohio, taken to Frankfort for re-interment.

Finley was a companion of Daniel Boone and Simon Kenton in their explorations in Kentucky.

The Kentucky Legislature in 1865 appropriated $500 to pay for the expenses of moving the bodies. The question now arises, can the money appropriated and not used before the constitutional convention still be used for the purpose for which it was appropriated?

Danderine

and we can

PROVE IT!

A lady from Minnesota writes:

"As a result of using Danderine, my hair is close to five feet in length."

Beautiful Hair at Small Cost

HAIR troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment; when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant on a tree would die under similar conditions).

The natural thing to do in either case, is to feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

Knowlton's Danderine has a most wonderful effect upon the hair glands and tissues of the scalp. It is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is similar to the natural hair roots or liquids of the scalp.

It penetrates the pores quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.

One 2-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself.

NOW at all druggists in three sizes.

25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

FREE To show how quickly Danderine acts, we will send a large sample free by return mail to anyone who sends this free coupon to the KNOWLTON DANDERINE CO., CHICAGO, ILL., with their name and address and five in silver stamps to pay postage.

THRILLING AND BEAUTIFUL

"The Wolf" a Melodrama of Force and Satisfaction—Scores Big Hit

Mayville people are fast getting educated to the fact that high-class theatricals are the winners every time over the cheap comedy and so-called melodrama of the barn-storming variety.

Last night's audience that greeted the great, but simply told, story of life in the Canadian forest by Eugene Walter as put on by the Shubert of New York was carried away by the beauty and the naturalness of both the play and players.

"The Wolf" is a thriller without any of the "Old Slueth" dark lantern business, which appeals to the lower classes and the howling applause of the gallery gods, always rampant for blood-and-thunder dramas.

The cast in "The Wolf" last night is mighty near made up of a bunch of stars. All were first-class and the role of Hilda McTavish, as enacted by Miss Alice Baxter, was a gem in good dramatic rendering, while Mr. Augustus Phillips as Jule Beaubien, the French-Canadian and hero of the play, was perfect in his role and carried the audience off its feet. All the other characters were fine and it is safe to say that Mr. Walter's play and the third Shubert attraction at Mayville was met with the most hearty and vociferous applause and satisfaction.

A crossed electric wire spoiled part of the scenic effect, but otherwise the play was perfect.

NATURE SPARES

The Stricken Horse From Grief.

What a fortunate provision of nature it is, that deprives the robe of mental suffering; for how poignant would be the grief to discover, in the height of its blooming glory, that a canker fed at its heart, and that its beauty and fragrance were doomed forever. Nature always spares the suffering; she is a veritable store-house of pleasing rewards, for those who seek her aid. In the years gone by falling hair and grayness have cast a gloom over the lives of thousands of young women, but thanks to the investigations of scientists the true cause of hair destruction is now known to be a germ of parasite that burrows into the hair follicles. Newbro's Herpicide absolutely destroys this germ, thus permitting the hair to grow as nature intended. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.
